DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The present invention is directed to a reproducing device for the reproduction of reproduction data recorded on a magnetic tape. Each independent claim identifies the unique feature of automatically adjusting from one trick play speed to the next when the first trick play speed is not detected. The closest prior art Rijckaert (US6222981) discloses a reproduction device with various reproduction speeds, but does not disclose the automatic switching to another speed when one is not detected.
